6-8 July 2016

Patron: Baroness Hale of Richmond

The International Centre for Family Law Policy and Practice

Co-Directors Professor Marilyn Freeman & Frances Burton

in association with King's College, London, is holding its 2016 conference, designed on the model of their highly successful conferences in 2010 and 2013.

Culture, Dispute Resolution and the Modernised Family

Contributions will be welcome on all topics related to the broad conference themes including the subjects of our previous conferences upon which we wish to build. A non-exhaustive list of suggestions follows:

- Child Abduction, Relocation, Forced Marriage,
- Parentage, Parenthood, Equality, Gender,
- Adoption, Child Abuse, FGM,
- Access to Justice, Dispute Resolution,
- Cohabitation and Marriage.

The working sessions will be held at King's College, London's Waterloo Campus.

The social programme will include a Chambers' welcome reception in the Inns of Court, a Drinks' reception on the Terrace of The House of Lords, and a Conference Dinner at The Oxford and Cambridge Club.

The Call for Papers will be issued in January 2015, published on our website www.famlawandpractice.com and also be distributed to those on the ICFLPP mailing list. If you are not already on the mailing list, and wish to be added, or for any further information about the conference or the ICFLPP's activities, please contact either Professor Marilyn Freeman or Frances Burton.

We would be delighted to hear from you, and to welcome you to the 2016 conference.
